Consumers acceptance on removing Net Neutrality

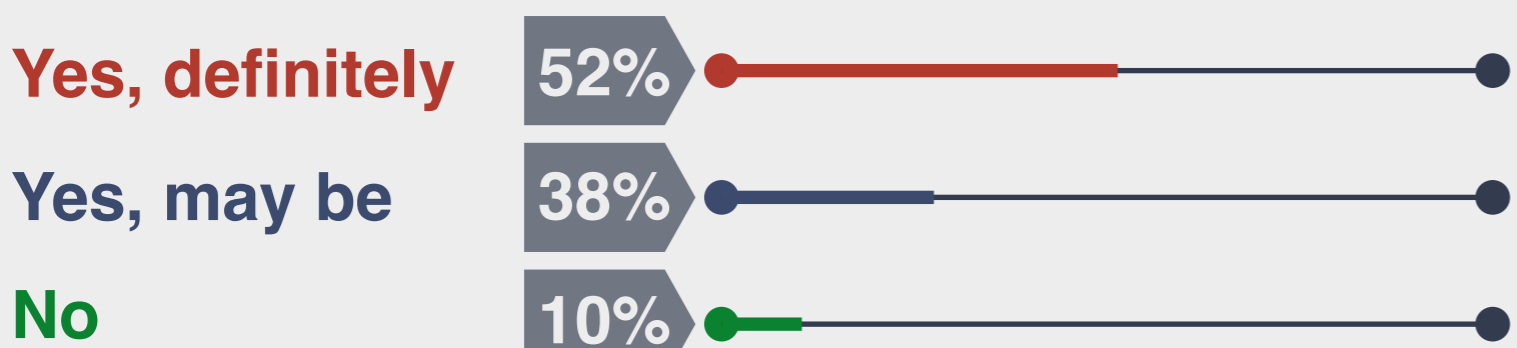

If Net Neutrality gets removed, will you be willing to pay for certain services you currently use like WeChat, WhatsApp, Youtube, Flipkart Shopping App and such many other?

Will you be open to approach where telecom operators will provide 'package plans' like currently the DTH providers do based on the services you want to access?

Do you think bigger web companies (Google, Flipkart etc) will exploit this opportunity to push their services in comparison to new/start-up companies as they have more money and are powerful?

Fight against removing Net Neutrality

Are you aware that a campaign #savetheinternet has been started to protest against removing Net Neutrality?

Have you participated in this campaign?
